LOVETT ELECTED AS U. P. CHAIRMAN

THE "SPHINX," WHO HAULED RAILROAD TIES IN TEXAS, TAKES HARRIMAN'S PLACE.

WILL IS READ BY FAMILY

Wall Street Thought Document Made Morgan Trustee of Biggest Holding—Harriman Rests on Hillside.

New York City.—Judge Robert S. Lovett, chief counsel for the late Edward H. Harriman, was elected chairman of the executive board by the directors of the Union Pacific railroad.

Judge Lovett, 52 years old, is a self-made Texan. He was born near San Jacinto and educated in Houston, where his father practiced law, and was admitted to the bar himself at 22. He became counsel for the East & West railroad and later assistant general counsel for the Texas Pacific. So successful was he as a corporation lawyer that in 1904 he was made general counsel for all the Harriman lines and president of the Houston & Texas Central Railroad Co.

When a boy he watched them lay the rails of the Houston & Texas Central. Then he got a job to drive an ox team that hauled timbers to the builders of the line.

"Some day," he exclaimed to his youthful friends, who gazed at him on his employment, "I'll own that railroad." He is now president of the line his hands helped to build.

Judge Lovett is known in New York as a sphinx. He talks little, but acts. Harriman accepted his judgment on legal questions without reserve. Lovett pulled the financier through the innumerable suits directed against his railroad properties during the most critical periods of amalgamation.

Although it is confidently believed Harriman's will was read to the members of the family in Arden house by former Judge Lovett and Charles A. Peabody, no intimation of its contents will be made public until it is filed for actual probate in a week or more.

Estate May Reach $200,000,000.

There is much speculation as to what the will contains, and whether it intimates the amount of the Harriman estate, which has been variously estimated at from $50,000,000 to $200,000,000.

Wall street was particularly anxious to learn if Harriman turned over to J. P. Morgan, as trustee, his holdings in the Union Pacific. It confidently believes Harriman did take this step and that the directors of the Union Pacific in special meeting would elect J. P. Morgan, Jr., son of the great financier to Harriman's place on the board as representative of his father.

Would Have Made Morgan King.—This action would have added to the 50,000 miles of railroads Morgan already controls the 66,000 miles of the Harriman system and made Morgan the greatest railway magnate the world ever saw.

It was noted that Morgan did not attend the Harriman funeral, though it is known he went secretly to Arden house a week ago last Thursday and had a long conference with the dying railroad man. At this conference, it is said, Harriman urged Morgan to take over the management of his great system, believing that Morgan was the only financier capable of grasping the situation.

Morgan was never a close personal friend of Harriman, and there was no significance in the fact that he did not go to the funeral. They were business foes or business friends, as the occasion demanded.

HARRIMAN LAID TO REST ON THE ARDEN HILLSIDE.

Arden, New York.—Through the quiet aisles of the Ramapo woods the body of Edward H. Harriman was carried Sunday from his great house and laid to rest on the Arden hillside.

Men who dominate Wall street came from New York to pay their last tributes, but the leading part in the funeral ceremonies was taken by the men who knew him best as a country squire, master of the great estate, which covers 43,000 acres of hill and valley.

His general superintendent, his master carpenter, his master mason and the managers and assistant managers of his dairies, his farms and his trotting stables were the men who bore his coffin, and the services were led by his own chaplain.

During the funeral service Mr. Harriman's servants were seated close to the coffin, while millionaires sat further away.

The pines and oaks that surround the little Episcopal Church of St. John, half a mile up the hill from the Arden railway station, never before sheltered such a distinguished gathering as stood bareheaded under their shade by the grave.

The funeral was private and only those who were personal friends of the family and had received invitations from Mrs. Harriman were admitted.

WHAT IS PAINT?

The paint on a house is the extreme outside of the house. The wood is simply a structural under layer. That is as it should be. Unprotected wood will not well withstand weather. But paint made of pure white lead and linseed oil is an invulnerable armor against sun and rain, heat and cold. Such paint protects and preserves, fortifying the perishable wood with a complete metallic casing.

And the outside of the house is the looks of the house. A well-constructed building may be greatly depreciated by lack of painting or by poor painting.

National Lead Company have made it possible for every building owner to be absolutely sure of pure white lead paint before applying. They do this by putting upon every package of their white lead their Dutch Boy Painter trademark. That trademark is a complete guarantee.

Why We Are Stronger.

The old Greeks and Romans were great admirers of health and strength; their pictures and statuary made the muscles of the men stand out like cords.

As a matter of fact we have athletes and strong men—men fed on fine strength making food such as Quaker Oats—that would win in any contest with the old Roman or Greek champions.

It's a matter of food. The finest food for making strength of bone, muscle and nerve is fine oatmeal. Quaker Oats is the best because it is pure, no husks or stems or black specks. Farmers' wives are finding that by feeding the farm hands plentifully on Quaker Oats they get the best results in work and economy. Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it. My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Bessie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.
